I assume that the parish council is aware of these changes?

If not, please be advised that the No. 18 bus will be changed to No. 23 and the frequency of services will be reduced by 50%. The residents of Lindford, Headley and Grayshott will only have one bus every 2 hours. This is already shown on Traveline and the Surrey County Council website has a link to the new timetable.

We will also lose our link to Farnham and Aldershot as the 23 merges with the 13 after Bordon and continues to Alton & Basingstoke.

The No 13 is being extended to Haslemere, so people in Bordon & Whitehill will still have one bus an hour to Haslemere.

Was there any consultation on this? Did Lindford PC have the chance to object?

There are many people in these villages who rely heavily on this bus service - people without cars who cannot afford taxis - and their numbers will increase as the population ages, especially if legislation makes it harder for people to continue driving into old age. A 2 hourly bus service is very restricting when you have to use it for shopping and all activities outside the house. The timetable was bad enough as it was, with no evening or Sunday service. Ten years ago Lindford had 2 bus services and the one to Liphook operated evenings and Sundays; now we are reduced to this!

Perhaps this is something to be discussed at your next meeting? Perhaps you would consider the possibility of trying to prevent this change coming into effect, or at least get the No 13 rerouted via Lindford instead of Hollywater (which has a smaller population) so we still have one bus an hour to Bordon and Haslemere.

The Local Plan consultation is launched!

Now is your chance to shape the future of where you live as the Local Plan consultation is launched.

The six-week consultation period will begin on Tuesday 5 February and will give you the chance to comment on policies covering housing, employment, infrastructure and the environment.

Ten drop-in sessions are being planned around the district where residents will be able to talk to experts and find out more about the proposals. Residents can then submit comments online using the council's website.

The plan only covers areas in East Hampshire outside the South Downs National Park - less than half the district. This includes Alton and the surrounding area as well as Whitehill & Bordon and the southern parishes of Horndean, Clanfield and Rowlands Castle. The drop-in sessions will all be held in those areas.

Information will also be available on the best way to try to make changes to the plan.

How to make your comment count:

Try to make sure your comment includes new facts or information that has not already been taken into account by the planning team.

Petitions or multiple copies of a letter will not add extra strength to the points it makes. If the comment is relevant it does not matter how many times it is repeated.

Try to refer to the relevant policy number so the planning team can match your comment to the right part of the plan.

Concentrate on planning issues – local knowledge is invaluable but non-planning issues, such as disruption during construction or local property prices cannot be taken into account.

Don't be afraid to say yes to anything you agree with. If someone else objects and there is no evidence of public support, it could be changed.

The drop-in sessions:

Alton – Maltings, Saturday 9 February, 10am-4pm

Whitehill & Bordon – Forest Community Centre, Thursday 28 February, 3.30-8.30pm

Liphook - Millennium Centre, Wednesday 6 March, 3.30-8.30pm

Alton – Maltings, Friday 15 March, 3.30-8.30pm
